

The South Carolina Council of Teachers of English will hold its annual conference January 29-30, 2010 at the Kiawah Island Resort near Charleston, South Carolina. We are expecting an audience of approximately 350 elementary, middle, high school, and post-secondary English language arts teachers and literacy coaches. Because of the popularity of our keynote speakers—Cris Tovani, Kwame Dawes, Isoke Titilayo Nia, and Harry Noden—we may have an even greater than expected crowd!

We would like to invite you to exhibit English and language arts materials you believe would be of interest to our participants. Exhibit space will be limited and will be assigned on a first come, first serve basis. Table rentals are $300 per table, per day for Friday, January 29 and for Saturday, January 30.

Please do not miss this opportunity to come and share your materials with us. Because of space limitations, you may reserve 1, 2, or 3 tables; we recommend that you reserve your tables early. I have attached a Vendor Registration Form as well as a copy of the conference brochure and "Save the Date" announcement. You may also find these materials on our organization website, <http://www.sccte.org/>.

All exhibitors will be acknowledged during the Friday luncheon. Exhibitors who register by November 13, 2009 will be recognized in the conference program. In addition, we are in need of door prizes, sponsors of guest speakers, and sponsors for meals (breakfast and lunch on Friday and Saturday, refreshment breaks). Please let us know if you would be willing to enhance our conference in any of those ways.

Please complete the attached registration form and mail a copy along with your payment as soon as possible in order to ensure your space at the conference. We cannot guarantee space until your payment is received, so don't delay!

Please contact me directly if you are in need of any additional information.

Matthew Nelson